Maniac Attempts to Kill
President Elect Roosevelt

As Carmel Sun goes to press, the nation is agitated over the attempted murder of President-Elect Roosevelt at Miami, Fla., Wednesday. The would-be assassin stated that he was sick and despondent and didn't like rich people. The bullet missed Roosevelt and struck the mayor of Chicago, who will die.

WEDDING BELLS AT COMMUNITY CHURCH

Last Saturday afternoon at the Carmel Community church a delightful wedding was solemnized with Cecil Calvin Quinn and Miss Audrey Anita Wagner as the principals. Miss Wagner is a distant relative of the great Wagner of immortal operatic fame. Previous to the ceremony, the "Pilgrim's Chorus" from Tannhauser was played. The Reverend T. Harold Grimshaw officiated.

UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFIT
AT GIRL SCOUT HOUSE

A jolly party is expected next Monday February 20 at the Girl Scout House when the Bridge section of the Woman's Club will give its energy to raising money for the unemployed. Be sure to attend. The time is half past two and the charge is 50 cents per player.

Tea will be served for all. If you can't play, come for tea for 25 cents. Reservations may be made by calling 135, Mrs. Alfred Wheldon.

KNIAZ IS PROUD OF HIS ANCESTRY

Have you ever been high-batted by a dog? You have if you have tried to presume when addressing Kniaz Bielyi Molina, beautiful Russian wolf hound belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Will Campbell. Kniaz has won the highest honors possible in this state, and has thirty-two ribbons and trophies galore. Thirty of the thirty-two are firsts. His grandsire is the famous Champion Blistai F. R. and Blistai's sire is another champion in England; a half-brother of Kniaz is CH Boris, who is the sire of Five Champions. (With all that blue-blooded line of relatives who wouldn't be proud. Kniaz has eight sons, not yet shown as they are too young.

CARMEL SUN ADMIRER
WRITES US A POEM

The editors can find no words to express their appreciation of these kind words penned by an estimable lady of Carmel. We can just say we hope to merit the good will expressed.

THE RISING SUN

The Carmel Sun is rising
To chase the gloom away,
It would not be surprising
If it were here to stay.

No Communistic jargon,
Will mar its pages clear,
A purer breath from Heaven,
It seems, is blowing here.

No graft should mar its pages,
No selfishness of power
"The Sun" should shine more brightly,

Each, every day, and hour,
We welcome clearer methods Expressing words of right,
"The Sun" must keep on shining
"Shining with all its might."

—A Villager

Ernest S. Bixler, contractor, has begun excavation for the new $7,500 home of George E. Butler of San Francisco. This beautiful new home will be located on the corner of Scenic and Eighth, one of the loveliest parts of the city.

Senator Tickle
For Economy

"This is not a depression. It is a transition of American life and American history," said Senator Ed Tickle in an address before the Carmelo Farm Center in Carmel Valley Friday night.

Senator Tickle said the country had come to the point where we must have a new system of taxation. At the present time, he stated, the state is in the position of a man earning $1,000 a year and spending $1,500. His address dealt in the main with taxation for the school system. "The legislature," he said, "is not fighting the school, but they do say, 'Cut out the unnecessary frills.' One school in the state, he explained, even had a golf instructor. The senator suggested cutting out the study of the 'Culture of Gold Fish.' 'Let's have schools, but let's cut out the idea that the children must be raised in country clubs.'"

The school lobby, he said, is a menace in the state of California. He declared that one woman lobbyist told him she represented a group of 170,000 people, all registered. His idea is that this group should form a constructive program to be presented to the legislature.

Mr. Tickle stated emphatically that he was opposed to raising more money but chose rather to stay within the income of the county and state. He said he did not expect to be re-elected as he believes he will be very unpopular through his policy of cutting out unnecessary expenses.

The senator told of the new plan of taxation which he thinks will have to be adopted. It is proposed to take one half the load from real estate, securing the other half by a combination income and sales tax, the income tax not to exclude anyone with an income of $1,000 or more. It is thought this can be collected at a cost of 2 1-2 per cent. He expects the passing of a new tax law to give real estate a little boom. Real estate, according to the plan, will be assessed at full value but a tax on only 50 per cent of the value will be collected, to be payable every 90 days.

The senator has a bill before the senate asking that no one may hold a job while receiving a pension from the state and another that no office holder may employ his relatives.

Charles Brown, newly appointed postmaster of the Monterey office, made an address asking that Carmel Valley people co-operate with Monterey in putting over their trade certificates.

Louis Wolter presided at the meeting and Mrs. Roy Martin was secretary. Joe Stewart was in charge of the 4-H Club program.

A note was read in the secretary's report that the 4-H club members had recently received their pins. The boys and girls are planning on a big time at Anilomar soon.

Delicious cocoa and cakes were served at the close of the program.

BASKET BALL FANS

ENJOY FAST GAME

The Monterey and Carmel grammar school game was as lulu with Monterey winning 16 to 9. It was a fight all the way. One of the high spots of the game was the sportsmanship shown by both the teams. A large crowd enjoyed the game.

MISS WILLISTON WILL

REVIEW MISSIONARY BOOK

"Rethinking Missions, published last fall is now in its second edition. This much discussed book will be reviewed by Miss Agnes Williston at the next meeting of the Federated Missionary Society, at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday, February 22 at the Community church.

MARY URSULA SLEVIN
DIED SATURDAY EVENING

The entire community was saddened Monday by the news that Ursula Mary Slevin had passed into the Great Beyond Sunday evening at 7:45 at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis S. Slevin at Carmelo and Ocean.

Ursula was a patient sufferer, having been an invalid for the twenty-one years of her life. She had been seriously ill for the past year and a half. Despite her handicap, her disposition was so gentle and charming that she had hosts of friends for to know her was to love her. She was born and reared in Carmel. Her life was extended nearly a year beyond the time allotted to her by her physicians, through the loving care of her mother and father.

Funeral services were held at the Catholic church in Monterey Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock and the body laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery.

The following acted as pallbearers: Kenneth Goold, Gordon Campbell, Ralph James and Leon Narvaez.

MISSION STUDY CLASS

CLOSES WITH DINNER

After completing an interesting study of the American Indian, extending over a period of several weeks, the mission study class of the Episcopal church, will commemorate the occasion with a pot luck dinner in the parish hall tonight, Thursday.

A fine program has been arranged which will comprise Indian legends and monologs. There are twelve members of the class and each is privileged to invite her family.

Her many friends will be pleased to know that Mrs. R. A. Wentworth is on her way to Carmel.

Mrs. Wentworth spent two summers in the Artistic City and her two fine hunters, Patrick and Patsy, are known to every horseman in the Peninsula.

INTERESTING PROGRAM AT
TELEPHONE EXCHANGE

Four minutes after midnight, Saturday, the new telephone building was the scene of a ceremony in which the man who introduced the telephone to Monterey was a principal figure.

A. B. Guzendorfer, builder of the first telephone line on the Peninsula, talked to Mayor Sandholdt in the first dial telephone call to be made in Monterey.

As 28 telephone men completed the change-over to dial operation, which shifted the center of Monterey's telephone circle from the old central office, at 300 Alvarado street to the new telephone building, Mayor Sandholdt dialed a telephone, which was answered by Guzendorfer.

"I extend Monterey's congratulations to the telephone company for this latest evidence of community progress," said Sandholdt, "and I should like to express the appreciation of the city for the co-operation which the telephone company has shown in keeping pace with local desires in the matter of a constantly improved telephone service."

Sandholdt and Guzendorfer shared honors as guests of Robert P. Sexton, manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, with many prominent Peninsula people in witnessing the flawless change of nearly 4500 telephones to dial operation, accomplished in the time-space of exactly four minutes.

Guzendorfer built the first telephone line on the Peninsula in 1894, to connect two stores and two residences in Monterey and Pacific Grove.

Two years later, Monterey's first central office switchboard was installed in Hilby's drug store to serve fifty telephones. Monterey was first afforded telephone connection with other parts of the state in 1898, when a long distance line was built to Salinas.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hunter of San Francisco are visiting Fred Hale and granddaughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Hale of Salt Lake City, who are wintering here.

Pottery Class
Doing Fine Work

The editor had the pleasure of watching the work in Mrs. Gertrude Wall's pottery studio Friday and it was certainly a treat. Miss Marjorie Pegram was making a form for a mask of Washington but unfortunately it won't be finished by the 22nd. It was most interesting to see her take a bit of clay here and there and smooth and pat it on to build the face up to perfection.

Mrs. Charlotte E. Morgan was working on a vase of Chinese design, ten or twelve inches high, matching a smaller one of the same pattern which she has all ready for the glaze. The lid had to be moulded just so, and in fact was so well done, it was hard to see where lid and body joined.

Tom Morgan was there too, and working on what every artist wants, a hand-made tea set for his sister, M. DeNeale Morgan, who will use it in her studio. Mr. Morgan makes the design and the mold and Miss Morgan does the decorating. The teapot is ready for glazing and it is a lovely thing both in pattern and decoration. Mr. Morgan was making a mould for the saucer, having the cup mold already completed.

Mrs. Wall is planning an exhibit soon when her pupils have a few more finished articles. In speaking of the pottery designs, Mrs. Wall said they copied the best known pottery as well as working along original lines. She is working out a new formula for low-fire glazes for her students.

Not only Carmel people are interested in Mrs. Wall's studio, but Watsonville people take advantage of the Carmel studio and come here to study. Mrs. Wall has her main studio in Berkeley and comes to Carmel each week.

Quite a number of Carmel people are planning to take up the work soon. An added convenience Mrs. Wall is giving is a night class keeping her studio open every Friday night so that art students may go there and work.

ENJOY CONVENTION IN SAN FRANCISCO LAST WEEK

Mr. Chin, Miss Marjorie Pegram, Mrs. Vera Peck Millis and Miss Elaine McGee report a most interesting time on their visit to San Francisco last week to attend the Episcopalian convocation. The opening dinner was held at the Fairmont Monday night, when they had the privilege of hearing Bishop Rowe of Alaska, General Noble and Mrs. Livermore. Miss Harvey of St. Margaret's Home in Berkeley also spoke. Mr. Bradley of the Del Monte chapel and Mr. Clay of Pacific Grove were also present. Archdeacon Porter presided at the meeting. The folk enjoyed the big mass meeting held at Trinity church, at which they heard twenty choirs from the bay region. Several lay readers were ordained, among them Mr. Ford, whose mother lives in Carmel.

W. E. MACK JUSTLY
PROUD OF LAUNDRY

W. E. Mack, owner of the Carmel laundry, is proud of his building and equipment, located at Eighth and Junipero. And he is right for it is the most modern laundry on the peninsula. He collects laundry from the Seventeen Mile Drive and the Highlands, but does not go into the other two peninsula towns. Mr. Mack has been in business here six years and in his new building three and one-half years.

Though the danger of fire is little, Mr. Mack has installed the automatic sprinklers in the ceilings so as to make it even less.

Ten people are now employed at Carmel laundry, and a larger number work during the summer months.

Remember your independent merchant.

Announce Candidacy of Mrs. Karl Rendtorff

Her many friends wish to announce the candidacy of Mrs. Karl G. Rendtorff for the office of school trustee, to take the place of F. W. Haasis, whose term expires.

In speaking of Mrs. Rendtorff's candidacy, a friend stated that so well known was she, that she had not been asked to make any pledges of any nature, whatsoever. They feel from her past records that she will use her best judgment in all matters concerning the school, taking into consideration both the efficiency of the school and the burdens of the taxpayer.

Mrs. Rendtorff is at present head of the Carmel Woman's club and is proficient in handling the duties connected with the office.

Carmel Sun has been asked to announce that there is no partisanship in the candidacy of Mrs. Rendtorff.

Carmel folk will have the opportunity to choose the trustee whom they consider as better fitted for the post, Mr. E. H. Ewig having announced his candidacy last week.

Both candidates are well known in Carmel. A sincere effort is being made by citizens to escape any bitterness that might possibly arise from the contest.

BACK FIRE CAUSES SMALL DAMAGE TO CADILLAC

Fire, last Thursday night, caused from a back-fire, broke out under the hood of the Cadillac belonging to Tony Luhnau, Indian poet, parked in front of Carmel theatre. Damage was estimated at $35.

Luckily, the fire department was having a practice drill and responded in the least possible time to the alarm.

CARMELO FARM CENTER
LEARNS BREAD MAKING

It is a safe bet that the ladies of Carmelo Farm Center are well high perfect on bread baking. Already famous for their cooking, they meet at stated times with the home demonstration agent, Miss Anna Olson, and take special instructions.

This week about twenty of the members met at the home of Mrs. H. B. Schulte and learned the finer arts of bread and dca biscuit making.

They are planning on another enjoyable and profitable meeting March 7 when they will meet at the home of Mrs. Joe Stewart to learn the art of making cheese.

CARMEL FOLK BETTER
KEEP CARS LOCKED

While Miss Stella Guichard was visiting friends on Monte Verde, between Ninth and Tenth one evening the first of the week an auto robe and a new sweater were taken from her car. This should serve as a warning to Carmel folk that petty thieves are abroad and it does not pay to take any chances.

FIREMEN TO TRY FOR UNIFORMS SUNDAY

Eighteen Carmel firemen will take examinations Sunday to see whether they are entitled to the new uniforms. The men have been studying fifteen books compiled by the National Fire Protection association since November, and it is a safe bet that every man will more than make the grade of 75 required for passing.

The tests will be held at Sunset school and will be in charge of Fire Chief Robert W. Leidig and Prof. O. W. Bardarson.

The money for the uniforms is on hand, having been acquired last fall through a play given for that purpose.

Chain Stores Unable to Defend Themselves

The antics of chain store interests in avoiding publicity would be highly amusing if the situation were not so serious.

Publicity can not harm any worthy cause. If chain stores are worthy a few statements from them as to their benefits will settle the matter at once. Let the chain stores answer these simple questions with facts.

WHAT DOES A CHAIN STORE CONTRIBUTE TO THE WELFARE AND ECONOMIC LIFE OF ANY COMMUNITY?

WHAT TOWNS, IF ANY HAVE BEEN BUILT UP BY CHAIN STORES?

DOES A CHAIN STORE EVER GO INTO A STRUGGLING, NEW COMMUNITY AND HELP BUILD IT UP?

DO THEY KEEP THEIR EMPLOYEES ON THE PAYROLL WHEN TIMES ARE BAD AND SALES FALL OFF JUST TO HELP THINGS ALONG?

HOW MANY MEN PAST 35 YEARS OF AGE ARE EMPLOYED BY CHAIN STORES?

The independent merchant has done all of these things. He has probably spent the best part of his life making his town a good place to trade and a good place to live.

The independent merchant is the one thing that created every town.

The independent merchant is always the first to enter an untrodden field. And, he makes a real sacrifice every day to keep his help employed and help his fellow townsmen.

THINK WHEN YOU SPEND YOUR MONEY.

A penny saved, a penny earned may have been good sense in Ben Franklin's day but a penny saved in a chain store may mean a dollar buried in a community graveyard.

and son, Billy, spent Sunday in San Francisco.

Mrs. Raymond Wilson of Oakland has been spending a few days in Carmel.

R. E. Bonham and wife plan to attend the Scot dance in Salinas next Tuesday night.

James V. Short of San Francisco recently spent some time at his cottage in Carmel.

Norman Miller of San Francisco spent the week-end at the family cottage on San Antonio.

Ed Terry, who lives in La Gir-alda building, has returned from a trip to San Louis Obispo.

Mrs. Alan Penfield of Saucelito spent the week-end at her new home on North Carmel.

Emily Turner and mother of Berkeley spent the week-end at their cottage at San Carlos and Santa Lucia.

Miss Stella Guichard has returned to her home in Carmel after a visit with her father in Santa Cruz mountains.

L. L. Benson and daughter, Miss Dorothy, are looking after
J. W. Benson's store in Pacific Grove during his absence.

Mrs. Mary Basham and Mrs.
A. P. Shackleford of Salinas were in Carmel Thursday, visitors at the E. R. Douglas home, on Dolores.

John Scott, foreman of the Church ranch, was in Carmel Tuesday morning and made a pleasant call on the Carmel Sun folks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Douglas of King City were visitors Monday in the home of their son, E. R.
Douglas, on Dolores, near Seventh.

Judge Wood said Tuesday that this month had been exceptionally quiet in his court, there having been no crimes and no disturbances. Tap on wood.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Guthrie of San Francisco were here for the week-end at the Wilson cottage on the point. Mr. Guthrie is of the firm of Belfry-Guthrie.

Miss Gloria Stewart of Hollywood was here last week on a short stay. Miss Stuart formerly with the Carmelite in this city is now making quite a hit in pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Beckman recently spent several days at Hotel La Ribera, visiting Mr.
Beckman's sister, Mrs. Etta Stackpole who makes her home at Hotel Ribera.

Robert Anderson and wife were in San Francisco for the week-end.
Mr. Anderson who is with the W.
J. Murphy lumber company, was enjoying his first day away from work since last June.

The officers of the Monterey Star met Monday night for practice and enjoyed a pot luck supper before they took up their work. They are preparing for initiation next Monday night.

Word has been received from Miss Carmen Gene Taylor of Carmel and Miss Esther Severance of Monterey, who went to San Francisco to take training in St. Luke's that they began their work Monday morning.

Mrs. Schaffner, daughter of Mrs. Boke, a long-time resident of Carmel, is expected to arrive soon for a stay of a month or six weeks. Mrs. Schaffner's husband is of the well-known Hart, Schaffner, Marx company.

A number of Carmel people are making up parties to attend the Shrine dinner dance at Forest Hills hotel Saturday night. The phone number given in the advertisement in Carmel Sun last week has been changed to Pacific Grove 4121 under the new dial system.
G. S. Curtis requests that all who plan to get in touch with him at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving H. Kahn of San Francisco spent the week-end at hotel La Ribera, visiting their many friends on the Peninsula.

Mr. Kahn is the treasurer of the California State Automobile association.

Mrs. F. S. Hudson of Vancouver and her two children are occupying Lookout cottage and will remain here for the Spring. Mrs.
Howden is a sister of Mrs. Kit Wilkinson of Carmel Valley, well known in Carmel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ainsley of the J. C. Ainsley Packing company of Campbell, recently spent several days at Hotel La Ribera, where they were joined by their daughter and grand children who also motored down from Campbell.

Misses Mabel Kimble, Louise Fleming, and Betty Cole of San Jose, and Miss Carrie Cummings of Piedmont, were among those who took advantage of the holiday Monday to spend the week-end in Carmel. The ladies are teachers.

KITE FLYING CONTEST
POSTPONED TO MAR. 4

Because the schools do not have Washington's birthday this year as a holiday, the kite flying contest has been postponed until March 4th, the day the new president takes his seat.

Some change has also been made in the awards given in the contest.

Much interest is being taken in the coming event. The bamboo to be used in making the kites has arrived and has been delivered to the school.

Miss Margaret White, Mrs. D.
E. Nixon, Mrs. Cora Newton, Mrs.
Cecil Haskins and Mrs. E. L. Taylor went to Pacific Grove Sunday night and attended the play at the First Congregational church, "Two Masters," put on by the young women of the church.

Children Portray Life of Robert E. Lee

One of the best entertainments ever given at Sunset school was presented Friday afternoon by the eighth grade of which Roy E. Gale is teacher.

The play was based on information gained from the class' study and research in American history and showed great care on the part of both the trainers and the children. Those who were fortunate enough to see the play remarked on how well everything was carried out, the youthful actors even being made up to resemble closely the characters whom they represented.

Following is the program as presented:

Conditions for the third annual race meeting of the Old Monterey Polo Club, to be held for charity Sunday, March 19 and out today reveal eight races carded, including two stock-horses, two flat races for four and one for three-year-olds and an event each for polo ponies and lady riders as well as a steeplechase race. The meeting will be held under the rules of the Pacific Coast Steeplechase and Racing association of which Charles E. Perkins, Santa Barbara is president.

Those on the racing committee are Herman S. Crossman, Captain Henry Forester, Aiden Roark, Eric Tyrrell-Martin and J. W. Williamson. Stewards will be Captain Forester, Sidney Fish, Colonel Ben Lear and Charles E. Perkins. Entries close March 11 with J. W. Williamson, Del Monte.

Among those to enter mounts are Will Tevis, stock and polo ponies; Mrs. Alma Rosecrans and Mrs. Grace Kelham, jumpers; Charles E. Perkins, Marion Hollins, Aiden Roark, Mrs. W. P. Roth, Mrs. Maxwell McNutt, Ritchie Munroe, and Mrs. Deming Wheeler of Santa Cruz.

INTEREST MOUNTING IN PEBBLE BEACH MEET

Interest is mounting in the Pebble Beach Gold Vase Tournament, to be held over the Pebble Beach links on Washington's Birthday, February 22. Captured last year by A. G. Sato, the seaside classic will again call into action a sizeable number of competent players. Entries are being received by the Tournament director, Hotel Del Monte.

BRONC RIDING

Jimmy Slattery, bronc rider from up the valley was brought in last week to get a broken ankle set. A big buckskin bucked him off and struck at him as he fell breaking his ankle and separating him from a lot of hide. When asked where he was hurt Jimmie said "Yes, in two places—his leg and his pride." "Yes sir" said Jimmie, "that bronc was plenty tough."

"How tough?" he was asked. "Well," he answered, after about a three minute pause, "Most as tough as a chain-store steak."

NOTED CARMEL SPORTSMEN

Every week the sports editor will pick out a Carmel sportsman and give the readers a little treat.

Fred Leiding gets the first write-up because he is a red-hot baseball, foot-ball, basket-ball and fight fan. Fred wouldn't go across the street to see a pair of ham and egg fighters but he took the big long trip to Chicago to take in the Dempsey and Tunney fight. Fred said "Oh, what a long count."

Fred took part in the first play in the Forest Theatre years ago. The name of the play was "David" and was written by Herbert Heron, then mayor of Carmel, and was directed by Garnet Holmes. Fred can talk on any good clean sport.

SUCCESS OF WOMAN'S GOLF BATTLE ASSURED

Success of the Pebble Beach Women's golf championship was assured today when word was received that Virginia Van Wie, women's National Amateur champion, would compete. The bout is scheduled for the Pebble Beach links from March 1 to 5. Little Clara Callender, California's girl golf prodigy, will play hooky long enough to take a crack at the title. Those on the committee who are working for its success include Mrs. George P. Egleston, Mrs. John T. Roberts and Mrs. Hillier Brown from the north and Miss Helen Lawson, Mrs. George Midgley and Mrs. F. C. Stevens from the south.

PRISONER WALKS OUT ON MONTEREY JAILERS

One day last week a Deputy Sheriff brought a prisoner to the Monterey police station. Dame rumor says the bail was set at $5000, also that it was on a warrant sworn out by a cannery man.

During the double shuffle around the station the prisoner walked out and departed for parts unknown. The entire force got on the case. Bill Haley was among the police called and he struck his trail and followed it up back of the school then the trail and Bill's Indian Blood petered out at the same time on rocky ground that left no tracks.

LUNCHEON CLUB GOES OVER WITH A BIG BANG

The Carmel Luncheon club went over with a bang that wrecked the taxi cab in Pacific Grove. Twenty people left Lynn Hodges stables at 10:30 Thursday morning and rode up to West Hills on the Gordon Moore ranch. Phil Wilson was host and he made a dandy. Phil's million-dollar smile is worth just that much in honest to Moses gold. Mrs. Blondel who with her cow boy husband owns one of the nicest dude ranches in Nevada, close to Reno, was among the guests. Your sports editor had the good luck to stop at the Blondel's Monte Christo Ranch and after he left it, it took him three weeks to get so he could eat common grub again.

Guests were Mrs. Warren, Elaine Carter, Mrs. Buddie Tilden, Herbert Morris, Mrs. Blondel, Micky Roberts, Geo. Gordon Moore, Mr. and Miss Klenschmidt, Miss Leet, Miss Howes, Mrs. Midkiff, Miss Gibbons, Bettie Green, Lynn Hodges, Phil Wilson, Dot Pinkham, Edwina Pinkham and Joe Mora.

The club talked over putting on a charity rodeo in the near future on the Moore ranch.

The Blondels have promised to have their top bronc rider at the rodeo, Shorty Crane. Shorty isn't only a show rider but is a sure enough cowboy.

DUCK CLUB NEWS

The Carmel Duck club had a very successful season. Their club is at Los Banos, California and they were the first duck club in the state to go on the 15 bird limit. Henry Dickenson is president and Will Martin secretary.

Fred Leiding, one of the members, thinks that no duck shooter should use a larger bore than a twenty gauge pump gun as he thinks the birds should have a chance.

"A twenty-gauge is big enough for any man," said Fred as he leaned over his cigar counter in his store across from the Ford Garage. "I ought to know, I use one and my average was the best in the club."

W Mac Phillips says the game wardens should show up pretty often during the season as a great many clubs pay no attention to the limit.

LUNCHEON CLUB

Lynn Hodges, president of the Luncheon club, tells the editor that the Club will ride from the San Carlos Stables Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Twenty people rode last Thursday and all had a good time.

BEAUTIFUL GOLF SHOWN IN SEMI-FINALS FRIDAY

Beautiful golf marked the semi-finals of the Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate golf championship here Friday when Lawson Little, Stanford, defeated "Bud" Eichelberger of Stanford, 1 up in a fiercely fought contest and Neil White, U. S. C. took the measure of "Bud" Cantwell, U.S.C., 6 and 5. White's consistency stood him in good stead for a win. He collected four birdies in the morning round and gave smooth performance in afternoon session. Eichelberger and Lawson were nip and tuck from ninth, both showing plenty of stuff. White and Little meet in 36-hole finals Saturday.

GOLF AT ROBLES DEL RIO

Harold Nielson of the Market Del Mar is a steady player at the Robles Del Rio golf course. He is playing a good game. Mr. Nielson and Harry Hilbert had a hot game not long ago just a few strokes apart.

BRIDAL PATHS

I saw Dot Pinkham on Downhill, Mrs. Earl Graft on Katinka, Jack McKay on Slippers, Stuart Montmorency on Toyon, Betty Pinkham on Cricket, Buddie Sterling on Steel on the bridal paths this week.

BOXING

Doc Stanford says that Young Corbett should knock Jackie Field plumb out of his ring shoes when they meet in Frisco, the 22nd. He has beaten Field twice and they weren't even good. Half the crowd either went to sleep or went home. Corbett didn't raise a sweat. Fields couldn't have wone with a club in each hand. But Stanford says with the Dapper Doc Kerns as Field's pilot that's something else. Kerns was the man that placed the crown on Jack Dempsey's head. Dempsey's hard luck started when he broke with Kerns.

TRAPSHOOTERS PREPARE FOR SEVENTH CONTEST

Trapshooters are already oiling up their guns for the seventh annual Del Monte Grand Hundred and Handicap, to be held March 2 to 5. Twenty-one cash prizes will go to winners at the affair. P.T.A. rules will govern the shoot which will attract marksmen from all sections of the coast.

BASE BALL

Carmel was full of disappointed ball players Sunday as Old Man Rain held the center of the diamond. The players looked mighty nice in their ball suits. Mayor Catlin is limbering up his right wing to pitch the first ball of the season to Fred Moore, Monterey chief of police.

TRAPPING

Milton Castro of Hoffman's camp on the Palo Colorado trapped a coyote that measured six feet from nose to tail tip. It was the largest coyote ever caught on the coast. It was so large that Milton thought he had a wolf.

The coyote was full of fight and Milton, although a great hunter and trapper all his life got quite a thrill when he bagged the big boy. People living around Hoffman's camp say he is one of the best shots in the state. One old timer said he could shoot the fuzz off a peach at a thousand yards.

FRED WERMUTH KILLS

BIG RUSSIAN BOAR

Fred Wermuth of Carmel is considered one of the best shot gun shots of hereabouts. When Fred looks down the barrel of his old trusty you might just as well light the fire for it's game in the pot sure enough.

Fred is a member of the Carmel Gun club and last September killed the biggest wild Russian Boar ever bagged in this country. The beast weighed 800 pounds and was attacking Delbert Wermuth and when Fred shot he was only ten feet from Delbert. The big boar was killed back of the Gordon Moore ranch. Mr. Moore imported a number of the wild hogs from Russia so as to have the sport of hunting for them. Mr. Wermuth's daughter is also a crack shot and she also killed a wild boar on the same trip this year. Up in the Modoc she killed one of the biggest Mule Tailed deer killed this season.

Miss Gene Wermuth is in her last year in high school. Neither Fred or Gene was very keen about telling this story and it was about as easy as borrowing ten dollars from a Scotchman to get it.

CHECKERS

I saw a red hot game of Checkers between Ray Meeks and Cecil May Ray won by a nose. It looked for awhile as though Ray would have to stick out his tongue to make the grade.

"PRICE CUTTING A MOST VISCIOUS CIRCLE"

By W. L. MUSSELMAN
When, Oh when, will people realize that we must live and let live? When will they realize that price cutting was the biggest factor in creating this depression and the biggest factor in maintaining it?

Not until they realize the above and have the will to stop it will conditions ever improve. Everyone, from the producer to the retailer, must have a legitimate profit on his product or labor. If the farmer does not get a fair price for his product, how can he or his employees pay the merchant a fair price for his merchandise? If the merchant can not get a fair price for his merchandise, how can he pay a fair price to the wholesaler? If the wholesaler can not pay a fair price for his merchandise, how can he pay a fair price to the manufacturer? If the manufacturer can not get a fair price, how can he pay a fair price to the producer. Right back to where we started. And labor in some form is in each and every transaction.

It's just a great big wheel and it slaps us all in the face as it goes around.

The main trouble is, the average human is NOT consistent.

The farmer will cry because he gets such a low, unlivable price for his products; the worker of about his low wages or salary. Yet in either case, they will spend their money with merchants who are continually hammering down the price of all commodities. These same merchants will tell you that competition is keen and they must have volume, regardless of price. The packers, manufacturers and wholesalers will tell you the same. Volume is all they can see, and in trying to get that volume they sacrifice all sane and logical business principles.

Talk to any individual or group of persons on this subject and they will say, "Well, what can I do about it?"

The salaried man will say, "I earn my money and I shall spend it as I please. Or, 'I've got to watch every nickel and buy as cheaply as possible.' And the merchant will make the same statement.

Individually there can be nothing accomplished. Collectively, there can.

In each state or community we have many different organizations that get things done along other lines. Why don't they awaken to the evils of price-cutting business and get something done about it?

We have among farmers, our prune and apricot, raisin, cattle, sheep, hog and chicken associations; our service clubs and lodges.

I don't know whether legislation of any sort can be applied. They say not because it may be unconstitutional.

Then why wouldn't some sort of a plan like this work? Surely in every one of these organizations, there must be leaders; forceful men who can sell an idea and get action on it. Why not hold several meetings with each of these groups and have their leader talk to them in their own lingo and explain and impress upon them the evils of this price-cutting business and the necessity of putting a stop to it.

Have each and every one sign a pledge that he will buy only American made goods and buy from a dealer that is trying to sell his merchandise at a fair margin of profit even though it may hurt him a little to do it.

Even though legislation on price cutting were constitutional, I doubt if it would be effective to the degree desired. The general feeling is that we have too many laws now with many of them not being properly enforced because of not meeting with popular approval.

Why then, would it not be better to appeal to man's sense of duty to himself and community by pointing out to him the many evils of price cutting and trying to educate him and making him an enthusiastic booster for the better standard of life and let live.

It seems to me that if this plan were followed persistently and tactfully that it would eventually do some good, particularly if it were worked with other good plans that are now functioning

Local and Personal

Miss Gertrude Rendtorff, dean of girls in Monterey high school, entertained the officers of the Girl's League at her home Tuesday evening.

Norman Leidig, son of Mrs. L. H. Leidig, who has been in Stanford hospital in San Francisco, is doing nicely, according to his mother who has just returned from a visit with him.

Captain Paul S. Mercurio, third vice president of the California State Firemen's association, has just returned home from a meeting of the association at Long Beach, reporting an interesting and profitable trip.

Twenty members of the younger set left Lynn Hodges' stables and rode to the Indian Village. A good time was enjoyed, and how. The party left the stable at 7 p.m. and returned at 11:30. Hot dogs, bung and coffee were served. Miss Eileen Overhulse was hostess.

Word comes from Watsonville that a farmer in that locality took two sacks of beans to town for which the chain stores offered him $1.20. He then went to an independent store, was paid $2.00 for his beans and went back up the street and spent the money at a chain store. Are not chain stores a menace when they blind a man to his own good?

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Farley, who have been away from Carmel about three years are returning this week. They have made an extensive tour through the various states. Mr. Farley was at one time Indian agent for the government at which time he was made a chief by the tribe he governed. The name the Indians bestowed on Mr. Farley years ago can be seen above the door of the Carmel Cleaning establishment, which he formerly owned.

well and with others that may be thought of.

The main thing we need action. Are there not men some where that can start this thing rolling?
